

Banner & Witcoff ranks first among firms protecting innovation in America.

November 14, 2007

The November 2007 issue of IP Law & Business names Banner & Witcoff, Ltd. as one of the top U.S. law firms protecting intellectual property for the world's 50 most innovative companies.

"Who Protects Innovation in America 2007" reports which U.S. law firms are prosecuting patents and litigating intellectual property cases in the United States for companies identified by BusinessWeek and the Boston Consulting Group as "The World's 50 Most Innovative Companies".

Banner & Witcoff tops the list for patent prosecution work with clients like Microsoft, Nokia, NIKE, AT&T, and Amgen. Overall the firm ranked in the top five for all prosecution and litigation work.

The rankings are based on research of IP litigation and patent prosecution activity from January to September 2007.

Posted: November 14, 2007