

IDSA Recognizes Rob Katz for Industrial Design Profession Advocacy

The Industrial Designers Society of America (IDSA) recognizes Rob Katz in the 20/23 Recognitions for his support on advocacy issues facing the industrial design profession.

IDSA's 20/2X recognition program began in 2020 to highlight IDSA members who have dedicated their time and talents to the IDSA and to advancing the industrial design profession through information, education, community, and advocacy.
